

Press Release

Intelligent Muscle

TOM ELLIS, DANIEL ROBERT HUNZIKER,
MAX MASON, LIZ MURRAY

Venue: Cafe Gallery, Southwark Park

Travel: Jubilee Line to Canada Water

Exhibition: May 30th – June 17th, 2007

Open: Wed, Thur, Fri & Sun: 11 am – 5 pm.
Saturday: 12 – 5 pm.

Private View: Sunday 27th May 2007, from 3 – 7 pm.

Launch Event: Tuesday 15th May 2007 from 5 – 7pm

Organized by Clare Goodwin and Sandi Paucic of K3 Project Space, Zürich who brought us the notorious Hand Luggage exhibitions; on this occasion, the exhibition Intelligent Muscle presents a show of UK and Swiss artists who will be living and working in the gallery space!

What happens when you confine four artists, with reputations as independent problem solvers and makers, within a gallery space for 12 days and charge them with the task of conceiving, creating and curating an exhibition? 'Intelligent Muscle' brings together four artists whose practices explore different sculptural concerns at the intersection of production and concept:

Tom Ellis (UK), Daniel Robert Hunziker (CH) Max Mason (UK) and Liz Murray (UK).

Will complete artistic freedom seem like such a golden ticket as this foursome negotiate the three very different roles of artist, technician and curator without external assistance or the option of geographical distance? What will emerge from the collaborative toil: one piece that reflects their common artistic ground or several individual works that speak of the mental and physical boundaries required when four sets of 'Intelligent Muscles' flex at once . . . ?

Cafe Gallery

Centre of Southwark Park, London SE16 2UA. Tel:: +44 (0)20 7237 1230.

www.cafegalleryprojects.org